

MODIFIED BEDFORD PILOT WORKLOAD SCALE

Subject rates workload on a 4 category (impossible/possible/tolerable/satisfactory) scale and then rates spare time within category using the descriptions in the appropriate box. Use of fractions (e.g. 3.5) is acceptable.

If Satisfactory,

was it a "piece of cake?"	1
was there more spare time than would ever be needed for additional tasks?	2
there was enough time to easily attend to additional tasks.	3

If Tolerable,

was there ample time to attend to additional tasks?	4
was there enough time to adequately attend to additional tasks?	5
there was some but not enough spare time available for additional tasks.	6

If Possible,

was there minimal spare time for additional tasks?	7
was there any spare time for additional tasks?	8
it was possible to maintain adequate performance.	9

If Impossible,

adequate performance was impossible.	10
